Operational Risk Management for 1st Line

20 - 22 April 2026

Thailand

In today's dynamic risk environment, the 1st Line of Defense plays a vital role in proactively managing operational risk. This hands-on workshop is specifically crafted for frontline business units and operational teams, equipping them with the knowledge and tools needed to take ownership of risk within their daily activities. The training builds foundational awareness, reinforces risk accountability, and empowers participants to use practical frameworks such as RCSA, KRI, and RCM to identify, assess, and mitigate operational risks effectively.

Overview

Operational risk starts with the 1st Line. This three-day workshop equips business and process owners with the tools and mindset to manage risk proactively—through RCSA, KRIs, and risk control matrices (RCMs). Participants will learn to:

- Identify risk triggers and early warning signs
- Apply RCSA and strengthen preventive controls
- Use KRIs and RCMs to drive accountability and risk ownership.

Who should attend

This course is suitable for:

- 1st Line of Defense professionals across business units and operations
- Department heads, team leads, and supervisors responsible for daily controls
- Staff in operations, client servicing, finance, HR, procurement, and IT
- Internal control owners or process owners across front- and mid-office functions
- Anyone keen to strengthen their operational risk ownership and understanding.

Methodology

This highly interactive program includes:

- Case-based discussions and team challenges
- Mini-exercises on RCSA, KRIs, and RCM design
- Role-play and simulation-based learning
- Peer reviews and guided feedback for continuous improvement.

Trainer

Delivered by a senior consultant with 35+ years of experience in operational risk, internal audit, and governance. He brings deep subject matter expertise from serving in senior roles across the banking and financial services industry, including contributions to global risk management frameworks and thought leadership in the APAC region.
