Sustainable Financing

17 – 19 May 2027
Ho Chi Minh

Strengthen your understanding of sustainable financing and its role in shaping responsible, long-term business strategies. This practical course is designed to help finance professionals, business leaders, and policymakers integrate environmental, social, and governance (ESG) considerations into financing decisions. Participants will gain the skills to assess sustainability risks, identify green investment opportunities, and align funding strategies with global frameworks such as the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and the EU Taxonomy. The program also promotes sustainable business practices and transparent stakeholder communication.

Overview

Sustainable financing is becoming a core driver for businesses seeking long-term growth while addressing environmental and social challenges. This course equips professionals with the knowledge and tools to design, evaluate, and manage financing solutions that meet both profitability and sustainability objectives.

On completion of the course, you will be able to:

- Understand key sustainable financing principles, frameworks, and regulatory requirements
- Apply ESG integration techniques to financing decisions and investment strategies
- Develop and communicate sustainability-linked financing plans to stakeholders

Who should attend

All professionals involved in corporate finance, investment, and sustainability strategy will benefit from this course:

- Corporate Finance and Treasury Teams
- Sustainability and ESG Officers
- Fund Managers and Investment Analysts
- Policymakers and Financial Regulators

Methodology

This course uses a hands-on, application-based approach including real-life case studies, group activities, and interactive discussions. Designed for practical application, the sessions provide frameworks, tools, and templates to evaluate sustainable financing opportunities and risks. Participants are encouraged to bring laptops for scenario-based exercises.

Trainer

The course is delivered by an experienced sustainable finance practitioner with over 15 years in corporate finance, ESG integration, and green investment advisory. The trainer has advised multinational corporations, financial institutions, and government bodies on implementing sustainability-linked financing strategies and meeting regulatory expectations.
